SNOW EMERGENCY DECLARATION NORTH WALES BOROUGH February 11, 2019 to February 12, 2019

Effective 11 P.M. Monday, February 11, 2019 through 6 P.M. Tuesday, February 12, 2019 a 'Snow Emergency' is declared for North Wales Borough, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania.

Parking restrictions will be strictly enforced on the posted Snow Emergency Routes of Main and Walnut Streets and cars will be towed.

NOTE: The riding of bicycles is banned within the Borough during this snow emergency. This will protect both bicyclists and drivers.

A winter storm warning has been issued. Up to 4 inches (or more) of snow, as well as sleet and freezing rain is predicted. All residents are urged to dress accordingly and limit their exposure to the elements.

Please check on elderly or disabled neighbors to see that they are prepared for the storm.

Power Outages: I remind you that PECO has no way of knowing that your power is out. You must notify them and, if necessary, follow-up daily. Please remind children to stay away from down wires. Always assume that they are live.

Fire Hydrants: I ask residents to be sure that nearby fire hydrants are cleared of snow. Businesses and apartment building owners should remind those plowing parking lots to not bury fire hydrants. This is very important for the safety of everyone and is not the sole responsibility of Public Works, the Fire Department, or the Water Authority. We are in this together.

I strongly urge everyone to exercise caution when driving, until streets have been cleared.

In order to hasten the removal of the potentially large amount of snow, all residents and persons working or visiting in the Borough are very strongly requested to find off-street parking during this snow emergency if possible.

As always, I thank everyone for their cooperation during this emergency.

Sincerely,

Gregory J. D'Angelo, CBO
Mayor
