

As we all continue to adjust to the daily changes of our routine, the Borough is continually evaluating our role in helping residents and businesses deal with increasing uncertainty. The recent shut-down order of 'non-life sustaining' businesses by Governor Wolf has created several challenges for all of us. I'd like to share some of the steps we are taking to follow these mandates:

- We request all 'non-life sustaining' businesses in the Borough to follow the Governor's mandate and close down until further directed by the authorities. If you feel there are businesses that remain open and don't follow these guidelines, you can call the North Wales Police Department at 215-699-9270 to file a complaint.
- All construction projects in the Borough will be shut down. This includes road paving and infrastructure replacement, and scheduled maintenance at our facilities. You may continue to see activity as contractors work to cleanup and secure jobsites for an extended period of closure.
- The Borough parks remain open and we encourage everyone to take advantage of our walking paths – maintaining a safe distance, of course. The playground equipment and tennis court facilities remain closed until further notice.
- The Borough continues to operate with essential personnel only. We are exploring ways to accommodate public participation in upcoming meetings via remote access software.

Please know that not only as elected officials, but as residents and business owners too, we will continue to do our best to look for opportunities that help lessen the burden and uncertainties this current situation has presented. This path is new for all of us, and we need to work together to sustain a manageable way of life for as long as necessary. As the situation continues to change, I will encourage you to check the Borough website www.northwalesborough.org and Facebook page for updates.

Be Safe....
